Recent Fire Discloses Lack of Protection to Property.

Proposition to Establish System of Water Works-School Interests

Inder Discussion.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star.

KENSINGTON, Md., October 27, 1899. A largely attended meeting was held at Noyes public library building last evening to discuss municipal affairs. Mr. B. H. Warner was made chairman and Mr. Geo. had been called to devise a plan for the establishment of a system of water works, but the disastrous fire of the day before broadened the topics so as to include fire protection and street lighting.

Mr. Charles R. Yorke, who has installed ties throughout Maryland and Pennsylvania, gave details of a plan which he thought feasible for Kensington. It consisted of a series of drilled wells located on a height of land overlooking the town above which would be erected a water tower sixty feet high and filled by means of an automatic electric gas engine, the water to be distributed by gravity through street mains. The estimated cost was $15, 609. He advocated municipal ownership, and stated that every plant installed by him had paid interest charges in from eight months to two years. The system required no care, except pushing a button to start and stop the pump. The meeting appointed a committee, consisting of Messrs J. Wilson Townsend, W. E. Brown and W. T. Hutchinson, with power to em-ploy an expert to make a detailed estimate of cost, the number of water consumers and the selection of a location. The com-mittee will report to a called meeting Thursday next at 8 p.m., in Mannakee's Hall.

The need of some organized method of fighting fire was discussed. Messrs. L. W. Maxsen, J. T. Freeman and Rev. A. H. Thompson were named as a committee select a temporary fire apparatus. They will investigate the claims of chemical enchemical apparatus generally. gines and chemical apparatus generally. Meanwhile, Mr. Maxson will organize a bucket brigade and drill a corps of fire fighters. Mr. B. H. Warner donated to the town a small house for storing the apparatus, and urged the building of inclosed ladder racks at convenient points. The presence of a half dozen hand grenades vesterday, it was believed, would have yesterday, it was believed, would have saved $15,000 from the flames. This committee will also report its findings at the Thursday's meeting.

Street Lighting. A proposition was laid before the meet-

KENSINGTON ing by two Washington gentlemen to light the town by means of acetylene gas for a period of ten years free of charge, claiming that the remarkable cheapners of this illuminant would impel every householder use the same were its merits thus publicly advertised. They will give a public exhibition Monday evening next in the parking adjacent to the Baltimore and Ohio and electric stations.

Irish Point Curtains.

Before the meeting closed Mr. W. G. Van Hoy asked the indulgence of the meeting to consider the question of amending the charter of the town, so as to secure to it the authority to levy and distribute all its own school taxes. He believed the schools of Kensington could be and should be made equal to those of the city with a small portion of the money now spent in railroad fares for school children. The county school board and the county com-missioners were of opposite political faith, and he regretted the fact that a narrow partisanship had succeeded in defeating the estimates which the local school com-mittee deemed needful. mittee deemed needful.

Mr. J. T. Freeman, one of the trustees, and a public educator, summed the situation up briefly. The present building is inand a public educator, summed the situation up briefly. The present building is inadequate and unsuitable, he said; the money available for remodeling it had been withheld. This hardship was not altogether an evil. Additional grounds had been secured and plans perfected for erecting a modern eigat-room high school building, using for manual training and cooking school purposes the structure now occupied. He felt assured that in the near future both the county school commissioners and school purposes the structure now occupied. He felt assured that in the near future both the county school commissioners and the county commissioners would unite on this plan to meet the rapidly growing wants of Kensington. He did not believe, however, that the legislature would look with favor upon municipal control of school taxes. It would mean something for Kensington, but for sparsely settled sections round about might result in the closing of their schools. The present policy was to take from those who are able, and give to those who are not, and this he believed was the true sentiment of Kensington.

Messrs. W. C. Van Hoy, M. B. Cushman and R. H. Martin were appointed a committee on the revision of charter, to report at some future day.

Eastern or Central Picked Out for the Winner.

TO PLAY AT NATIONAL PARK

The present week has witnessed the inauguration of the championship series of inter-High School foot ball contests in the District of Columbia. The first game was played Wednesday, having been postponed from Tuesday on account of a necessary change in the arrangements for grounds. It has now been decided by the managers of the various teams that the championship games will all take place at National Base Ball Park. The premier conflict between the touseled-haired athletes of the high schools was interesting, the result being a tie score of 0-0 between the battling elevens. the representatives of the Western High School and Business High School.

All of the high schools will this year put teams into the field for the interschool gridiron honors. Last year Western was missed from the schedule. This year, however, the institution will have a lot of promising young men in foot ball togs who hope to make a showing for the Georgetown contingent.

The championship last year, it will be remembered, was won quite easily by the Central team. The presence of a large per-centage of old players on the eleven makes centage of old players on the eleven makes Central the favorite in the race for '99 laurels. Eastern has a good, strong, heavy team on the "grid," however, and will undoubtedly make a bold bid for the championship. While the team of the Business High School is rather light it has some good stuff in its make-up and will be heard from during the season. Each team will play three games in the championship contest, meeting the elevens from each of the other schools just once. A number of outother schools just once. A number of out-side games have been played and arranged for by all four teams.

The High School Schedule.

In addition to the opening game between Vestern and Business, played Wednesday, he complete schedule is as follows: November 1-Eastern High School versus Western High Schoo

Business High School.

November 10-Western High School versus lentral High School. November 15-Eastern High School versus Business High School. November 24—Central High School versus Eastern High School.

Students of the different schools familian with the make-up of the various teams are of the opinion that the championship will undoubtedly be contended for finally by Central and Eastern. If such should be the case the final game of the season will e a fierce and decidedly interesting strug-cle and will be witnessed undoubtedly by aundreds of the High School pupils. All of the High School teams are round-ng into form after weeks of hard practice. There is yet some doubt as to the eventual personnel of the evens and a change in personnel of the elevens and a change in the positions of players may be decided upon at any moment by either of the four captains. The boys, realizing the rapid ap-proach of the season, have at last settled down to earnest, conscientious and consis-tent work and will enter each conflict with a set determination to hold up the honor and glory of their respective institutions. Central.

On form it would seem that Central has the best showing for the championship. In weight the team will probably correspond with that of last year, although the present uncertainty as to the line-up makes it impossible to give any figures in this respect. Eight of last year's men are again in uniform and working for positions on the team. It is very probable that all of these experienced players will be in the regular line-up. They include Barnard captain of am, who will play one of the tackles the team, who will play one of the tackles; W. R. Lowell, a guard; T. B. Hunter, tackle; A. N. Tinda i and W. R. Johnstone, ends; Will W. Brush, quarter back; W. S. Jones, half back, and Murray Purcell, full back. Brush was a half back last year. With this nucleus, it is believed, a very strong team will be developed. The team will deeply miss Morgan Sherwood, who last year filled so admirably the position of center rush. This yery bright and roughly enter rush. This very bright and popular roung man died in September from the ef-ects of scarlet fever. J. M. Churchill will play the position. He has shown up in ex-ellent style so far and will prove a worthy ellent style so far and will prove a worthy iccessor of the lamented Sherwood.

Thirty or more candidates answered Capt, Barnard's first call for practice. The best material offered has been separated from the chaff and it has now been definitely setthe chaff and it has now been definitely set-tled that the picked team wil be made up from the following list: Center-J. M. Churchill. Guards-D. C. Holland, M. R. Woodward,

Edmonds and W. R. Lowell.

Tackles—Capt. Barnard and T. B. Hunter.
Ends—A. N. Tindail, W. R. Johnstone,
Ed. Taylor and Dean Corsa. Quarter backs-R. R. Barringer and Will W. Brush.

Half backs-Roscoe Flinder and Wal. S.

Full back-Murray Purcell. Hunter has been acting as captain of the team during the temporary absence of Captain Barnard. The team is being coached by Mr. Wilson and Sam Bogan, '98. Central has already met the first an central has already met the first and sec-ond elevens of Gallaudet College, the East-ern High School of Alexandria, and the Maryland Agricultural College, making a creditable stand against each team. Mr. Hutchinson, '99, has taken the schedule in charge and efforts are now being made to secure games with the Y. M. C. A., Rock-ville College and the Georgetown preps. The Central students are looking forward to a clean record for their team and bea clean record for their team and belleve it will prove the fastest and most suc-cessful eleven the institution has yet turned Eastern. Eastern High School is also fortunate in the return of a number of last year's play-Six of the regular members of the '98 team will again be in their accustomed positions, while two substitutes of last fall positions, while two substitutes of last fall will be in harness this year. The old regular players include Captain H. M. Bradley, G. Bullough, R. Geib, W. McMurtrie, G. Kennedy and W. S. McCardell. Last year's "subs," who will play this year, are F. Hilder and S. Stonebraker. The team which will compete in the championships will be selected from the following players. Center, E. Palmer and W. Speake; guards, G. Bullough, F. Hilder and A. Snell; G. Bullough, F. Hilder and S. Stonebraker; ends, G. Bullough, F. Hilder and A. Snell; tackles, R. Geib and S. Stonebraker; ends, McMurtrie and H. M. Bradley (captain); quarter back, C. Springsguth; right half back, G. Kennedy; left half back, W. S. McCardell; full back, L. Castell.

Among the more promising substitutes.

Among the more promising substitutes are: Isaac, Lindenkohl, R. O. Marsh and W. Guy. The latter has been trained especially for substitute full back, while Marsh has the position of quarter back in view.

The Eastern team is being managed by W. W. Bride. Mr. Dickinson, formerly of the Columbia Athletic Club, is coaching the players, while Mr. McQueeney has charge of the physical training. Mr. Eastman is faculty adviser. Eastern made an excellent showing on the gridiron last season, and it is expected that she will do even better during the coming contest. The even better during the coming contest. The team will average about 14, pounds, a heavy weight for a school team. In this respect the Eastern eleven is the superior of the other organizations in the High Schools. The men are at practice every afternoon, and are perfecting their team work in a manner that bespeaks an ex-cellent showing upon the local gridiron. In addition to the games scheduled for the championship series, they will play games with several outside institutions, including the eleven from Charlotte Hall, St. Mary's county, Md., November 4, and the Gallaudet second team, November 8. Manager Bride is arranging for several other contests. These will probably include a contest with a Laurel eleven November 11.

Western. After an absence of a year, Western High School enters the foot ball battle again with a team of unusual strength, considering the comparatively small number of men to draw from. A handicap is suffered from the fact that the entire team, with two exceptions, is a body of new players. The youngsters are showing a good lot of nerve, however, and give promise of developing into a fast but light team. The average weight will be but 130 pounds. The two old players who will be in line are R. Coyle, captain and full back, and Guy Smith, who will this year fill the position of left guard. With the assistance of Dr. A. C. Bryan, the faculty adviser of the team, and the manager. W. Huck, Capt. Coyle is whipping his team into form and hopes to have it in shape for a creditable showing against Eastern in their opening game, November 1. The team will be composed from the following:

ollowing: Center-McClure. Guards-Drum and Guy Smith.
Tackles-F. Smoot and Taggart.
Ends-C. Boggs and A. Smoot.
Quarter back-Huck or Spofford.

Full back—Capt. R. Coyle.
The substitutes include B. Boggs, Sutton, Duvall and Fenten. Jordan, the left half back, whose leg was unfortunately broken Wednesday, was expected to leave school soon. His absence will be much regretted. His position will be filled by F. Smoot, who has played right tackle.

The Business High School completes the quartet composing the inter high school association. The Business team may be compared with that of Western, in that there will be but two old players in harness, and that the average weight will be but about that the average weight will be but about 130 pounds. Wednesday's tie game between the teams bear this out. J. Walsh, one of last year's stars of the Business team, has been chosen captain for this fall. He will fill the position of full back. F. Law, who will be at right tackle, is the second old player who has returned. He is practicing daily with the team, which will be made up as follows:

Center-Theodore Silence.

Queen.

Quarter back—"Cotton" Wright.

Full back—J. Walsh, captain.

Business will be managed by Louis A.

Sterne, who has arranged for a number of putside games some having already been. Sterne, who has arranged for a number of outside games, some having already been played. The faculty adviser is Mr. C. Hart, and the ccach Mr. Callahan, formerly of Georgetown University. Business will go into the field well trained and drilled, and should give a good account of itself.

On the whole all of the teams are pretty evenly matched. While in some cases there will be an inequality of weight in the opposing elevens, it is not always "beef" that wins games. The contests all give promise of unusual interest.

AFFECTING MARKET RIGHTS

November 3-Central High School versus | The Occupancy of Sidewalks by Those Who Sell Produce.

> Dealers Confined to Space Immediately in Front of the Building -Probable Litigation

The District Commissioners today formally approved the action of the police department in confining those people who have been in the habit of occupying the sidewalks adjacent to the Riggs market for the exposure and sale of products to the sidewalk space on P street, immediately in front of the market building. It appears that this action of the Commissioners was based upon a complaint made to them by Mr. H. W. Throckmorton of 1416 15th street. Mr. Throckmorton explained that he was sorry to be compelled to complain, but that he felt that in pelled to complain, but that he reit that in doing so he was performing a duty which he owed to his neighbors as well as to himself. He expressed the opinion that to allow the occupancy of the sidewalks to continue by people who pay no license or rent to the District would not be just to those who do pay taxes.

The matter coming under the immediate jurisdiction of Commissioner Wight he referred the complaint to the police department, calling attention to the action taken ment, calling attention to the action taken some time ago by the Commissioners regarding the occupation of sidewalks for such purposes, and to the permit granted the Riggs Market Company for the occu-pation of such sidewalk space as is immediately in front of the market building In making the reference, he inquired why any one had been allowed to occupy the sidewalk without a permit.

Police Report.

The chief of police referred the mafter o Lieutenant Heffner, who has charge of the precinct in which the market is located. He reported that the space designated for country people in front of the market does not accommodate all of them. Therefore, he explained, they had been allowed to stand on both sides of the market. He stated, however, that he has notified the people occupying the sidewalks on P and 15th streets that hereafter they will be confined to the space immediately in front of the market building. It is understood that Mr. Daniel O'Connel It is understood that Mr. Daniel O'Conner Cailaghan, accompanied by Mr. John H. Ruppert, president of the Riggs Market Company, and Mr. Philip Young, a stand-holder in the market, called a few days ago upon the Commissioners with the ob-ject of securing a revocation of the order to the police to remove the people occupy-ing the sidewalks and to prohibit the standing of market wagons in front of pri### vate premises in the vicinity of the market Charter Rights.

Mr. Callaghan contended that the charered rights of the O and P streets markets carry with them the privilege of the occupation of adjacent streets granted to the municipal markets under the old municipal laws; that this interpretation is lowed in regard to the Eastern and West-ern markets, and that the market masters of both places remove the refuse from the stands occupied by the farmers' wagons. He also held that the recent law respecting the occupation of parked streets does not affect these old market laws. Mr. Callaghan further claimed that the practice was sanctioned by custom, and that it would be a hardship to insist upon the ruling which has been made. He therefore, ing which has been made. He, therefore, asked that Lieutenant Heffner be instructed to withhold any further aggressive measures in the premises until further measures in the premises until further orders.

The Commissioners, after consulting with their attorney, decided to direct the enforcement of the order of removal, as has been heretofore stated in The Star, and no occupancy of the sidewalks except immediately in front of the market building is now being permitted. It is stated by Mr. Callaghan that the matter will be carried into the courts, in order to obtain a judicial determination of the question.

Work on the Helt Line. The progress in the change of the motive power of the Anaeostia and Potomac street railroad, which includes the old Belt line, is controlled to a large extent by the arrival in the city of the rai's. These are coming in quite rapidly and the work is keeping up with the supply.

Committee of Person and Estate. Justice Cole this afternoon issued an order appointing Mrs. Carrie S. Kellogg a committee of the person and estate of Daniel M Kellogg, a jury having decided that the latter is a lunatic. Mr. Kellogg, it is stated, was for a long time a clerk in the pension office, but recently lost his mind.

CHEVY CHASE LINKS

Concluding the Play in Golf Tournament This Afternoon.

The Entries and Play So Far as Completed-An Interesting

Match.

Play in the annual fall golf tournament of the Chevy Chase Club will conclude this afternoon, when the final eighteen holes of the governors' cup and consolation cup matches will be made. Another feature of handicap cup, some seventy prominent golfers from all over the east being entered.

A strong wind blew across the links at Chevy Chase this morning, making the long drives very uncertain. The preliminary play of the two preceding days brought together this morning Mr. H. R. Johnstone of the Chicago Golf Club and Dr. L. L. Harban of this city as final competitors for the governors cup, and Messrs.

Ormsby McCammon and B. Lee, both of the Chevy Chase Club, as contestants for the consolation cup. Both pairs played the first eighteen noise during the morning, and will make the concluding half of the match this afternoon, the course being thirty-six holes in all. The morning play of eighteen holes be-tween Mr. McCammon and Mr. Lee for the consolation cup was close and exciting, the score being all square at the eighteenth hole. They began their second round at 2:30 o'clock.

The principal interest centered in the match between Mr. Johnstone and Dr. Harban for the governors' cup. All admitted that the two were evenly matched. Mr. Johnstone, upon the completion of the first eighteen holes, was ahead by a score of 2 up. Both men played nervously and were up. Both men played nervously and were clearly off their usual form. They topped their balls constantly and were apparently too nervous for good work on the putting green. The play this afternoon between them will be much better, it is expected, as both were improving rapidly.

List of Entries.

The complete list of entries for the handicap cup competition, with the handicap alowed in each case, is as follows: From Elkridge Hunt Club—Mr. Knapp, 10; Mr. Swann, 10; Mr. Smith, 7; Mr. Williams, 12; Mr. Murphy, 10; Mr. J. ### MAY VISIT THEIR CHILDREN. Order of Court Issued in a Pending Controversy. Judge Barnard today issued an order in the case of Mrs. Margaret Jewell, who has entered suit against her husband, Albert McDaniel, and her heirs and assigns. H Jewell, for maintenance, and for the adjustment of other matters between them. The children of the couple are for the time being in the Bruen Home. The present cause grew out of an order heretofore issued by the court which required Elizabeth K. Fleck, superintendent of the home, to state why she should not be committed for contempt for denying permission to Mrs. Jewell to visit her children.

Mrs. Fleck, through her counsel, Dewees & Dewees, made answer that in her judg-ment Mrs. Jewell is not a proper person with whom her children ought to associate, and that when she came to the home she conducted herself in an improper manner. Mr. Tracy L. Jeffords, who appeared for Mrs. Jewell, submitted several adidavits from persons who are acquainted with Mrs. Jewell stating that the reverse of what Mrs. Fleck had stated were the facts, and that Mrs. Jewell was a good mother, and that it was eminently proper that she should be permitted to visit her children. Judge Barnard today signed an order permitting both parents to visit the children at the home on the second and fourth Fri-days of each month at hours to be designated by the management of the home. denying to either the right to take the children away from the home.

GRIEVANCES AT THE NAVY YARD.

Representatives of Carpenters and Joiners Complain to Secretary Long. Secretary Long gave a hearing today to a committee representing the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners in reference to the treatment of artisans of that trade at the Washington navy yard. Mr. N. C. Sprague was the spokesman of the delegation, and he represented that the present system of work at the yard was unjust to carpenters and joiners. He PERSONAL. of work performed at the yard was im- PROPOSALS..... properly assigned to unskilled labor and was injurious to the trade.

The Secretary listened patiently to the representations, and said he would be prepared to act in the matter as soon as he received a report from the commandant of the navy yard, who has been instructed to make a full investigation of the charges.
